Nma Lois Ifezue is a highly successful entrepreneur, devoted Christian, loving mother, and proud grandmother of five. Born in Anambra State, she is the first child out of nine siblings.

Nma Lois Ifezue attended the Anambra State Culinary school and gained valuable experience in the culinary arts. She has leveraged this expertise to become a highly successful businesswoman, serving as the CEO of Prince Newton Paint, Managing Director of Nma Fisheries, MD of Zoe Healthy Drinks, and other small-scale businesses.

Nma Lois Ifezue is a devout Christian and serves in her local church as a Deaconess and women leader. She is passionate about supporting the girl child and empowering young women to achieve their dreams. She believes that with hard work, dedication, and a positive mindset, anyone can overcome life's challenges and achieve their goals.

In addition to her professional and religious commitments, Nma Lois Ifezue enjoys watching TV, eating good food, and spending quality time with her loved ones. Her watchword is "When life knocks you down, don't give up, just try again", a motto that has guided her throughout her life and inspired her to persevere in the face of adversity.

Despite her many achievements, Nma Lois Ifezue is most proud of her role as a loving mother and grandmother. Her commitment to her family and her community is a testament to her kind heart and generous spirit.
